Dear Dr. Teng:

I am very pleased to enclose the signed Memorandum of Agreement between our organizations to collaborate on projects that will result in more sustainable communities throughout northern and central China.

Through this agreement, I also welcome you to the growing international network of professionals and organizations committed to the exchange of resources to pursue this common cause – The Global Energy Network for Community Sustainability.

I look forward to our mutually beneficial collaboration and to producing real results for our communities and the global environment. We will be back in touch very shortly to frame-up our first joint project together.

Most Sincerely,
